

April 6, 2006

Please write your message here. Take note of the style tips and talking points in the sidebar.

To Whomever: I oppose the creation of the Bank of WalMart. They are becoming too dominate in this country and causing smaller businesses and family businesses to have to close their doors, in all areas of business. And now they want to do the same to the banking industry? That has hurt far too many people. I urge the board of directors of the FDIC to attend the hearings and listen to the human side of the matter. Too much power under one roof is not good for the country. This to me is leaning toward communism. I want no part of what's happening.

Frances Beagle